No fillers and nothing artificial or excess.

Benefits of natural fermentation (biotic skincare)

Once an ingredient is fermented, it's microbes break down into smaller, more absorbable molecules. This makes these ingredients much more efficient at performing their job. Therefore, fermentation helps the skin absorb more nutritional benefits. Fermentation creates new skin-enhancing properties like essential vitamins, antioxidants, probiotics, and enzymes that supremely nourish your skin.

Our unique slow fermentation method takes 3-5 weeks

What makes Circulove products so effective is that we use fermentation holistically covering all the active ingredients in the formula, not just some single ingredients or probiotic extracts. Even our natural oils are fermented. Handcrafted skillfully and fermented patiently in small batches in Finland, Circulove is a truly artisan, all-natural skincare.
